

MONICA ROWLAND APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT

At its special meeting on May 1st, 2017, the Mount Arlington Board of Education appointed Monica Rowland as the district's next superintendent.

Ms. Rowland has worked in the field of education for 27 years. During this time, she has taught high school science, worked as a director of curriculum, and served as an assistant principal and then principal in two Kindergarten through 8th grade districts. Since 2013, she has been serving as the Superintendent of Schools for the Tewksbury Township (NJ) School District.

Ms. Rowland received her undergraduate degree in Biology from Erskine College in South Carolina. She received her Master's degree in Educational Leadership from New Jersey City University and she is currently completing her doctoral dissertation in Educational Leadership, Management and Policy at Seton Hall University.

A South Carolina native, Ms. Rowland currently resides in Sussex County and has four children between the ages of 14 and 24. She is active in her community and volunteers with a variety of organizations. In addition to watching sports, she enjoys reading, cooking and fishing.

She will assume her responsibilities at the beginning of July.
